The continual falling of tons of the breaking and cracking masses causes a roar of deafening sound that no artillery could equal.

AFTER nearly twenty-four years, General Fitz John Porter has been exonerated of charges of cowardice made against him at the second battle of Bull Bun, which worked his dismissal from the army, and is restored. But time and recent legislation will prevent General Porter from entering active service. He has passed the age at which army officers are placed on the retired list, and he will now be placed on that list with the rank he had at Bull Run.

THERE are 4,000 women employed in the departments at Washington. They come, as a rule, from good families. Many of them are the widows of noted generals, the daughters of exgovernors, ex-congressmen, and now and then you will find the relative of a president or cabinet minister. Many of them have traveled widely, and the majority are educated and refined ladies. They do all kinds of work and receive salaries ranging from $720 to $1,800.

THE loss of our song birds is a serions loss. The sparrows are accused of being one cause of the loss, and the passion for feather trimmings is said to be another. Both of these causes are efficient, but there is another, which certainly should be taken into account, and it is the growth of the science of ornithology. Half the children in the land are engaged in the collection of objects of natural history, and bird's mests and bird's eggs always play a leading part in such collections.

The Lake Shore Switchmen's Strike a Fizzle.

Trains Again Moving Without Interrug

CRICAGO, June 28 .- The blockade on the Lake Shore railroad was broken at noon to-day. The switch-engines which had been busy in the yards making up the train steamed onto the side-tracks, and a regu-lar engine coupled onto the train. The special police, with their Winchester rifles ready, stood on the alert. The guns were too much for the crowds who thronged the streets in the vicinity, and not an attempt was made to interfere with the movements of the trainmen. When every thing was in readiness for the start a detail of Pinkerton men, armed with rifles, climbed onto the engine and the tops of the cars. Just before the train was ready to start a switch engine, to which a caboose was attached and also heavily guarded, steamed onto the main track in front of the regular freight, but the conductor only had orders to proreached Englewood, having run the gant-let of the strikers from Forty-third street without molestation. At the Fifty-first street crossing there was a large crowd of men and boys who jeered as the train passed by, but offered no violence. There was a large crowd in and about the yards, but a large crowd of Hyde Park po-lice prevented even the semblance of dis-order. The train left, and will be guarded specials on board. A second freight train of twenty-six loaded freight cars followed the first train, having been made up at En-glewood. It had about twenty armed specials and reached South Chicago in safety. The railroad officials anticipated no trouble after leaving that point unless it should be at some point beyond the State line, and a squad of Pinkerton men, already mentioned, has gone to that point to guard against that happening. A third train was got under way and passed South Chicago without molestation. A freight train from the East has arrived at the Lake Shore yards in this city. The officials have issued notice to accept freight without limit. They state that they believe

CONGRATULATIONS.

Correspondence Between President Cleve land and a Philadelphia Chinaman. WASHINGTON, June 28 .- A correspon ence has been made public between James a pig-tailed Celestial living in Philadel phia, and President Cleveland. On the day the President was married the following was mailed to him:

"PHILADELPHIA, June 2, 1886.

"MISTER PRESIDENT: I am glad you marrie to bear plenty good fruits en the nation, and I congratulate to your marriage; all enjoy yourselves. I read your letter: you so kind to our Chinese living here, and instruct the Government to protect our Chinese and be pease to live to everywhere. So I think your kindness ever so much. I heard you on June 2 to be marrie. So I send a little present to you and the bride. I hope you enjoy yourself to receive it. One China lvory fan, with sandal-wood box, for the bride, one ivory card-case for the President—all sent by mail. I hope god bless you in prosperity in all things.—Joe James, Philadelphia."

This letter bears the writer's signature in Chinese characters as well as in En-in Chinese characters as well as in English. The presents are beautiful ones. A few days ago Joe James' heart was made glad by receiving the following autograph letter from the President of the United States:

Washington, D. C., June 12, 1886,
My Dear Sir:—Mrs. Cleveland and I send our sincere thanks to you for the beautiful presents which you sent to us on the occasion of our marrage. We shall prize them very highly, because they are sent by a stranger as a token of his kind feeling and his wish for our happiness. I hope that this act of yours and the words contained in your letter may be taken as proofs that you are interested in the affairs of the country in which you have made your home. Yours sincerely,

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.

Judge David Davis Laid at Rest—The Cere monies Devoid of Display, but Largely Attended. BLOOMINGTON, I.L., June 39.—The obse quies of David Davis occurred here this quies of David Davis occurred here this afternoon. The services were arranged by the family in accord with the quiet, modest tastes of the deceased. The city was thronged with people, and business was practically suspended all day, and entirely during the funeral service hours. A special train at noon brought Governor Oglesby and staff and one hundred lawyers from Servicefield Deceasure and Clinton. from Springfield, Decatur and Clinton. Judge Gresham could not attend owing to the serious illness of his wife, and Colonel the serious illness of his wife, and Colonel
R. B. Latham, of Lincoln, was substituted as pall-bearer. The remains laid in state in the west parlor of the Davis mansion from 6 a. m.
to 2 p. m., and there was a constant stream of visitors to take a last look at the face of the dead. The features were calm and peaceful. The casket was of cedar and draped with black cloth. There were eight heavy silver handles and a massive plate, pearing the inscription: "DAVID DAVIS: Born March 9, 1815; died June 26, 1886." Resting on the casket were a wreath and star from the family, and at the head a floral pillow, with the word "Grandfather traced across it in purple immorteller There were many other beautiful offer ings, including a combination of feather palms from Mrs.Justice Hunt, and a basket Orphan's Home. Desecrated the Dead. DETROIT. MICH., June 29.-The old DETROIT, MICH., June 29.—The old St. Anne's Church is to be demolished. The re-moval of the remains of Father Richards to the new St. Anne's Church took place to-day. While this was being done an unaccountable desecration was committee Several of the older members of the con-gregation had gathered about the ancient coffin as the lid was removed. The skeleton was fleshless. A desire bad been expressed by many to secure mementoes from the priest's coffin, and in spite of all precautions the forefinger of the priest's right hand was captured by a lawyer. Part of the priestly vestment, moldy and decayed with age, but still intact, was secured for a county official. There is great indignation at this maining of the skeleton, and it is not unlikely that steps will be taken to re-store the finger-bone if the person who has it can be identified.

A RIOT AVERTED.

Chicago Police Assaulted by Sympa thizers With Strikers.

Jaw Broken.

Cuicago, June 30 .- Over 100 of Pinker on's men, armed with repeating rifles collided with a mob of enraged Lake Shore strikers, and for a moment a massacre seemed inevitable. A shower of stones and offal was thrown from the Chicago Packing and Provision Company's slaugh ter house at the men on a Lake Shore en gine and caboose that had been halted alongside of it. The rioters had just been set free for their dinner hour, and thousands gathered about the spot. A lot of offal was first thrown, and struck one of the three Pinkerton men who were on the caboose. This was greeted with yells of delight by the mob, and was fol-lowed by a torrent of stones, sticks and other missiles. The first impulse of the riflemen was to reply with their Winches ters, but they were restrained by a deputy sheriff, and a bloody riot was a verted. The disturbance was ended by the whistle blowing the 12:30 recall. Officer Michael Begley, of the town of Lake police, was struck on the face with a flying club and his jaw broken. A Pinkerton man named John Lyon was also hurt, but not seriously. Four of the riotors have been seriously. Four of the riotors have been arrested by Pinkerton men, one being shot in the leg. Now Delegate Raymond Secured His Lib-eration from a Southern Prison. [Chicago Inter Ocean.]

"I heard a story the other day," writes a Washington correspondent, "about the late Delegate Raymond, of Dakota, whe died early in the year, which is quite remarkle. He was the last man to see General McPherson alive at the act of delivering a message to the General when the party of Confederate horsemen came upon them, and McPherson was about down and Raymond was taken prisoner and sent at once to Andersonville. After he had been there a year or so there was an exchange of prisoners, and the whole body of men in the prison were assembled in line to hear send the list of those who were to be exchanged. Those whose names were read were ordered to answer 'Here' and step forward. When the officer in charge was going over the roster he called out the name of one who had died the night before. Raymond had the pressure of mind to answer 'Here' in the place of the dead man and stepped forward, and although his decaption was immediately discovered by his fellow-prisoners, they were all too generous to give him away. He was archanged under the name of the dead comprise returned Kerth, and re-calmed the
